

Dear The KSMS members,

I have no doubt you have already been doing so but I am writing to ask for your assistance in further promoting the forthcoming International Mass Spectrometry Conference in Melbourne through the Korean Society for Mass Spectrometry; especially over the next two weeks.

The IMSC2024 organisers (August 17–23) are proud to be able to present an outstanding and diverse scientific program that will excite members of your society. The travel costs to Australia have also been carefully considered by the local organising committee and alongside the low registration costs there are several generous travel and registration awards available to assist students and early career researchers as well as key partnerships (including with Qantas airways) to support your members to travel to Australia. To take full advantage of these can you please promote the conference to your members over the next week noting that key deadlines including abstract submission (April 5) and early-bird registration (May 17) close very soon. Please direct your membership to the conference website (imsc2024melbourne.com) and distribute the promotional material here attached.

While I understand that you are unable to attend the conference yourself, I do hope we will have the honour of hosting many members of the Korean mass spectrometry community in Melbourne.

kind regards
Steve
